THE HUMAN EAR.—Few people realize what a wonderfully delicate piece of mechanism the human ear really is. That which we ordinarily designate as the "ear," is, after all, only the mere outer porch of a series of winding passages which lead from the world without to the world within. Certain of these passages are filled with liquid, besides having membranes stretched across at different points. When a sound wave strikes these they are thrown into vibrations and made to tremble like the head of a drum does when struck with a stick or with the fingers. Between two of these parchment-like curtains a chain of minute bones extend, which serve to tighten or relax the membranes and to communicate vibrations to them. In the innermost place of all a row of white threads, called nerves, stretch like the strings of a piano from the last point from which the tremblings reach, passing thence inward to the brain. Truly, this is a wonderful piece of mechanism.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.
THE BEST SALVE in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chills, Corns and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. IT SOOTHES the CHILD, SOFTENS the GUM, ALLAYS ALL PAIN; CURES WIND COLIC and is the best remedy for DIARRHEA. Sold by Druggists in every part of the world. Its value is incalculable. FUN FOR ALL BUT THE CAT.—Down in the hall of the big office building at 74 Cortlandt street the Postal Telegraph Company has a little box of an office under the stairs. In one end of the office is a pile of supplies. There, four or five days ago, a great yellow and white cat of uncertain breed but sure determination builded a nest. Indifferent alike to persuasive calls of "Tabby" or "Tom," and to threatening gestures and shouts of "scat," the cat maintained itself in its nest apparently undisturbed. But the occupants of the telephone office were not pleased with the cat.

Yesterday morning the janitor took a long window pole, and poking it through the little window in the railing around the telephone counter, began to prod the cat. There was a growl, a hiss, and a wild commotion, then a yellow and white streak from the pile of supplies to the door. In the hall a scrub woman was washing the floor. As the cat dashed along toward her she swung her mop rag around and caught the cat a right-lunged upper cut on the point of the jaw and scored the first knock down.

The cat fled up the stairs, with a young army of messengers boys, operators and scrub women after it. The elevator man fought foul. He went up to the fourth floor with his car, opened the door and stepped out into the hall just as the cat finished the last flight of stairs. With a howl the cat jumped into the car. The man followed, and before the army could reach the second floor the cat and the elevator were on the ground floor. The door was opened and the man stepped out. A boat from Jersey City had just come in, and the street was full of people hurrying to work. The cat gave a suspicious glance at the elevator man and made a rush for the street.

The telephone operator says he got to the head of the stairs just in time to see a "head-directed boot catch the four-footed bird amidships." A man with long gray whiskers and a high hat was passing the door. When a large yellow and white cat fell on his chest and embraced his whiskers with four sharp-clawed feet, he yelled so loudly that a policeman in Dey street sent for an ambulance.

The cat escaped.—N. Y. Sun.

A LOVING COUPLE DIE TOGETHER.—One of the most remarkable and deliberate suicides on record was brought to light in Wilmington, Ohio, yesterday morning. Gilbert Palmer, of Jamestown, about 26 years old, procured a horse and buggy Saturday evening to go to Port William. He was last seen at that place about 10 o'clock in company with Mary Conklin, aged 16. Miss Conklin's mother had strenuously objected to her association with Palmer. Sunday morning Arthur Johnson in passing a by-road saw a horse hitched to a fence. He went over and discovered Palmer and Miss Conklin lying near the buggy on the ground. Both were dead. They had taken the rope out of the buggy and spread it down on the ground and placed the buggy cushion on it for a head rest. Near them was found two glasses and two papers that contained strychnine. A note was found written on one of the labels reading as follows: "Bury us as close together as possible. Good-bye."

THE HUMAN EAR.—Few people realize what a wonderfully delicate piece of mechanism the human ear really is. That which we ordinarily designate as the "ear," is, after all, only the mere outer porch of a series of winding passages which lead from the world without to the world within.
